INTRODUCTION

By Steve Godwin

My late father, Stephen B. Godwin, Sr., was employed in 1931 by H. B. Dowling of Eufaula, Alabama to establish a branch funeral home in Clayton, Alabama, the County seat of Barbour County. The Dowling Funeral Home began operation at 230 S. Midway Street in Clayton, Alabama in early November of 1931. Following the death of Mr. H. B. Dowling in 1948 the funeral home was purchased by the Godwins and continued to operate under the name Godwin Funeral Home until Mr. Godwin's death in 1981. The business was purchased by Mr. Ricky Kent in 1982. The business now operates under the name Kent Funeral Homes, Inc.

During the approximately 50 years of operation under Godwin management/ ownership funeral records were hand written and kept in large ledgers. Each ledger contained 300 pages. The information recorded in the ledgers basically duplicated what was required for submission of death certificates but was far from complete. The mortician, or his designee interviewed a family member of the deceased and recorded all pertinent information in the ledgers. In many cases the information requested was not known by the informant. At the same time a standard death certificate form was completed and forwarded to the attending physician who signed the document and indicated the cause of death. The physician returned the signed death certificate to the mortician who filed it with the Bureau of Vital Statistics in Montgomery, Alabama. Many of the original funeral home records do not list a cause of death because funeral home employees apparently did not follow up and enter this information in the ledgers after receiving the death certificate back from the attending physician. In some cases, where there was no attending physician and the death was of questionable cause, the death certificate was signed by the County Coroner.

My father was Barbour County Coroner for more than 30 years and from 1932 until September of 1966 operated an ambulance service in conjunction with the funeral home. My mother, Elizabeth R. Godwin, R.N. became a licensed embalmer and funeral director in 1945 and assisted in the business until her death in 1983. Most of the funerals which were directed by the Godwins were for people who were from Barbour (County) and the surrounding counties of Dale, Bullock, Henry, Pike and Russell.

My cousin and dear friend, Ruth Nielsen, and I realized that these old funeral records contained a veritable gold mine of information for genealogical researchers. Permission was secured from Mr. Kent for access to old Godwin Funeral Home records. Unfortunately, the funeral records for the period From November of 1931 until December 31 of 1934 could not be located.

The information contained in the original funeral home records was transcribed onto cards and arranged chronologically. The leading reference number refers to the page number in the original funeral home ledger. Every name contained in the records has been included in the master index. These names would include those of relatives, attending physicians, clergymen, etc. if such information was included in the original record. In many cases the maiden names of the wives and mothers of the deceased were given, but in other cases, the married name of the wife/mother was given. In some cases the maiden surname of a female may not agree with the surname of the person listed as her father. These apparent discrepancies may be because the listed father was a step father or the discrepancy may be due to an error in the original recording of data. Some of the handwriting in the original records was faded and difficult to read and in cases where there was a question regarding the entry a question mark has been included. Apparently, the given name "Francis" was given the male spelling regardless of sex. Some corrections have been made if the gender of the deceased could be otherwise verified. In many cases the family informant did not know the information called for on the death certificate. In such cases it was a common practice for the funeral home employee taking the information to write D/K (Don't Know).

Some of the information has been modified and expanded in cases where I actually knew the deceased. Additional information, which was not a part of the original record, has been designated as an editor's note. Many genealogy researchers are interested in the medical history of their ancestors. Where cause of death information was recorded we have included that information. Foot notes have been added in cases where obsolete medical terms were indicated. Definitions have been verified with Taber's Cyclopedic Medical Dictionary 18th Edition.

The following information was required, if known, on the standard Alabama Death Certificate:

- 1- Name of deceased
- 2- Date of death
- 3- Race/Sex
- 4- Age at last birthday
- 5- Date of birth.
- 6- Place of death (city, town, or location)
- 7- Hospital or institution
- 8- State of birth
- 9- Citizenship
- 10- Marital status
- 11- Name of surviving spouse
- 12- Social Security number
- 13- Occupation
- 14- Kind of business
- 15- Residence address
- 16- Father's name
- 17- Mother's maiden name
- 18- Name of attending physician
- 19- Informant's name
- 20- Cause of death (Designated by the attending physician)
- 21- Burial information (Burial, cremation, removal, etc.)
- 22- Name of cemetery/crematory
- 23- Location of cemetery or crematory

- 24- Name of funeral director/address
- 25- Date of burial/cremation
- 26- Signature of funeral Director

Certified copies of Birth and Death Records cost $12.00 at the time of this writing. There are no records earlier than 1908. For birth records less than 125 years old and death records less than 25 years old you have to be immediate family or have written permission from the next of kin in order to obtain these records.

There are no Alabama birth certificates before 1908. Most counties just registered births in ledgers. Some county court houses may have kept some records, but the best source is:

SOME CEMETERIES OF BARBOUR COUNTY

There are more than 200 cemeteries in Barbour County, many of which are not on maps. Some of the cemeteries are adjacent to various churches, some are public and some were established on private property and were sometimes referred to as "Family Graveyards". Some cemeteries are known to have existed, but their exact location is unknown. There are about 58 cemeteries in Barbour County whose name and/or locations are unknown. Several cemeteries have the same name, but different geographical locations.

The old Black cemetery in Clayton, Alabama is of particular interest. This cemetery was the burial place of Black citizens prior to the end of segregation. The cemetery is located behind the Town and Country Library, East of Midway Street and is accessible by road. There is also an unimproved parking area. This cemetery is no longer being used for burials. The mother, grandmother and grandfather of the famous fashion designer Ann Lowe are buried in this cemetery. Ann Lowe was a Black woman who was born in Clayton, Alabama in 1898. Ann's maternal grandfather, General Cole, a free Black carpenter, came to Clayton from Abbeville in 1853. Cole worked for a contractor who built the courthouse. He fell in love with a young female slave named Georgia, who was a seamstress and purchased her from her owner and married her. Ann Lowe designed and made the gown worn by Jackie Bouvier when she was married to Senator John F. Kennedy. She also designed the gowns worn by Jackie's 16 attendants. Ms Lowe also designed gowns for many famous people including the DuPonts, Roosevelts, and Rockefellers. She was a well known figure in New York social life.

Through the cooperation and courtesy of Professor W. Craig Remington of the Geography Department, University of Alabama, we have been given permission to reproduce their excellent map of Barbour County Cemeteries. We have provided in addition an alphabetical listing of all cemeteries whose names and locations are known. The number following the cemetery name refers to its location on the map.

Some of the cemeteries in Barbour County are located in remote areas and on private property. Local inquiry is recommended. For those who are seeking information from grave stones it is recommended that they take a supply of butcher paper and carbon paper in order to make rubbings of the lettering appearing on grave stones.

BARBOUR COUNTY

THE ATTENDING PHYSICIANS

By Steve Godwin

Following are comments about the physicians that I remember meeting.

G.O. Wallace, M.D.

Dr. Wallace maintained a practice in Clayton, Alabama for many years. His office was located in the rear of a building on the North side of Court Square. His office was primitive by today's standards. He had an X-Ray tube suspended by wires from the ceiling. There was no shielding whatsoever. One day when I was a teen-ager I was walking by his office and Dr. Wallace came out and asked me to come in and help him. He was in the process of treating a young Black woman who had an abscessed breast. His wife, Nora Wallace, was the post mistress in Clayton for many years. He was closely related to the famous George C. Wallace who served several terms as governor of Alabama and was a presidential candidate as well.

James Reid, M.D.

Dr. Reid maintained an office above the Milldrum Drug Store and across the hall from the Southern Bell Telephone Company on court square. Dr. Reid was a pharmacist who returned to medical school to become a doctor. It was said that Dr. Reid was one of the best diagnosticians in Alabama. His son, Lawrence also became a doctor and it is believed that he maintained a practice for many years in Ft. Lauderdale, Florida.

Carlos Rodriquez, M.D.

Dr. Rodriquez maintained a practice in Louisville, Alabama. His office was housed in a small wooden building on Louisville Avenue. His wife was a beautiful woman who was always seen in public dressed in the very latest fashions. After he moved away from Louisville it is believed that he went to work for the Veteran's Administration.

Robert Lee White, M.D.

Dr. White maintained a practice in Mt. Andrew, Alabama. He had a pharmacy in conjunction with his medical office and filled his own prescriptions. He was an elderly man when I first met him. It was said that when he took the state examination to become licensed as a physician that he scored 100 percent. The examiners were suspicious that he had cheated. They gave him another exam which he also passed with 100 percent. Dr. White's practice was mostly limited to rural families.

T.V. McCoo, M.D.

Dr. McCoo was a Black doctor who maintained a practice in Eufaula, Alabama for many years. Dr. McCoo was a large, very handsome man who had beautiful gray hair. Dr. McCoo was the grandfather of the well known entertainer, Marilyn McCoo. Dr. McCoo was a credit to his community. The Van Buren High School in Eufaula, Alabama was renamed T.V. McCoo High School in his honor. Dr. McCoo made many house calls throughout Barbour County and was often paid in the form of barter. He and my father, who was coroner (and on several occasions, Sheriff), of Barbour County for many years were good friends. Dr. McCoo came to our home late one night and told my father that he had just returned from treating a patient on a nearby farm. The patient was poor and had no money, but paid Dr. McCoo with a live young pig. Dr. McCoo had the live pig in the back seat of his car. As a child, my curiosity had to be satisfied so I went out and looked in Dr. McCoo's car. The pig was thrashing about in an effort to escape. Dr. McCoo asked my father, "What in the world am I going to do with a live pig?"

E. M. Moore, M.D.

Dr. Moore was employed by the Barbour County Health Department as a public health staff doctor. He maintained an office in the old Barbour County Court House (Long since demolished). I remember him as being a rather small man with jet black hair.

Paul P. Salter, M.D.

Dr. Salter maintained a practice on Broad Street in Eufaula, Alabama. He was also the owner of Salter Hospital in Eufaula which was at the time the only hospital in Barbour County. Dr. Salter was a surgeon. His hospital had two separate wards one for Black patients and one for white patients. It is believed that he was one of the first doctors in Alabama to use Sodium Pentothal as an anesthetic.

J.S. Tillman, M.D.

Dr. Tillman had a practice in Clio, Alabama.

J.D. McLaughlin, M.D.

Dr. McLaughlin had a practice in Blue Springs, Alabama.

Dr. Keyton

Dr. Keyton maintained a practice in Dothan, Alabama. He was an ear, eye, nose, throat specialist. Dr. Keyton was one of the doctors who taught my mother Elizabeth R. Godwin, R.N. when she was in nurse training at the old Frazier/Ellis Hospital in Dothan, Alabama.
